The morphin is never repeated except under the most extraordinary conditions. At the time the second dose is given, the patient is shown some familiar object, as a cup or spoon, which she recognizes, and in half an hour the same object is shown her and she is asked if she has seen it before. If she remembers, it shows she is not yet in the zone of amnesia, and a third dose of 1400 gr. or 13 the size of the first dose, is given three-quarters of an hour after the second dose. The memory test is again made in half an hour from the first test and usually the patient by this time cannot remember, and she is well in the zone of amnesia. From this time on, she can usually be kept in this zone...
