Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Remembered Events: Concerning the Life and Services of Benjamin Brown Thompson, as a Teacher of Common Schools, Academies, Institures and Popular Singing Schools, in New Hampshire and Massachusetts, for Nearly Half a Century, or From 1827 to the Year 1875; With Brief Notice To My family, my friends, and my very many respected pupils, now scattered and settled in nearly every State of the Union, some of them holding positions of trust and responsibility, I take pride in dedicating these pages: I believe that they have not forgotten their old teacher: I cherish warm recollections of my schools and scholars: I have watched their progress and prosperity: My interest for the welfare of my pupils will continue unabated through life. Left much alone, in these late empty years, Life, (starved and dwindled, ) tells its old tales o er, And, like the wind, the Past sings in mine cars; But, like the wind, goes by. I believe that one of the chief sweets of memory is drawn from the melancholy which follows in its train; in my lonely moments of meditation, the union of tender memories, cheerful and regretful, bring forth an offering of tears, the children of thought, soothing and sorrowful in their influence upon the mind. Whilst with regret I look back on the past, I can also look with bright hope to the future. It is a part of my nature to love the future, with its promises, as well as the past, with its recollections. Deep, deep goes the song which guides me up the mountain from whence I can look it upon the distant landscape through which I have wandered....
